AAEA Extension Section Webinar

May 16, 2012 – 2P EDT (1P CDT /12 Noon MDT/11A PDT)

Delivered via a partnership between the AAEA Extension Section and the Western Extension Committee – Ag In Uncertain Times

Land Leases: Share, Cash, and Flexible Arrangements in Changing Times

Presenters William Edwards-Iowa State University, Ray Massey-University of Missouri and Kevin Dhuyvetter-Kansas State University will cover land leases in changing times for agriculture. Specific topics include:

- 1) Alternative types of leases for crop land (crop share, fixed cash, and flexible cash), how rates are determined, and information available for use in education;
- 2) Pasture leases versus crop leases – additional considerations to think about in the negotiation process when considering pasture leases; and
- 3) General trends and issues related to leasing land (e.g., lease types, land tenure, relationship between landowner and tenant, etc.).

To Participate: No pre-registration is required, however the seminar is limited to 500 users. Sign-in is first come, first served.

Equipment needed: A computer with speakers/headphones and a high-speed Internet connection (LAN, DSL/cable modem, high-speed wireless).
